Glenn and Louise Evans

After starting their Amway business in Sydney, Glenn and Louise hungered for the countryside. Seven years ago, they made the tree-change and moved to Northern NSW, where their business has flourished and their lifestyle has never been better.

Since relocating into a regional area, Glenn and Louise have grown their business so much that Louise has been able to leave her corporate career and is now enjoying bringing up her son in a beautiful, relaxed country environment. Glenn's goals are "to join Louise as a full-time parent, find our dream property and build a future full of freedom and travel!"

Louise and Glenn have already enjoyed some unforgettable travel experiences around Australia and overseas, courtesy of their Amway business. The income from their business has let them enjoy more of the luxuries of life, including their decision to buy their beautiful pedigree Red Kelpie, River.

For Glenn, XS Energy Drinks have helped him to keep up with their energetic new family member, whilst Louise loves the good health, vitality and skincare that come with NUTRIWAY® and ARTISTRY®.

The couple agree Amway provides the option to build the future you want, with no ceiling on income potential. They have found the training and support second to none, saying "we regard the Amway training programme as the ultimate university, providing both commercial skills and life skills, wrapped up in a fabulous business."
