Guntur and Kathryn Reid

“There aren’t many options in the marketplace that are as consistent and dependable as Amway”

Guntur, a civil engineer and wife Kathryn, an occupational therapist, sought a business opportunity that would let them take control of their financial future and found it in Amway.

Guntur started in 2004 and Kathryn joined him in 2009. The couple have enjoyed the benefits ever since, including a great deal more flexibility to enjoy a better work- life balance.

“Amway is absolutely low risk and the earning potential is uncapped,” Guntur explains. “There aren’t many options in the marketplace that are as consistent and dependable.”

The Amway business has given them additional cash flow, which gives them more choice around how they work and the lifestyle they enjoy. It’s also provided great peace of mind knowing the income earned from Amway can cover their overheads should anything happen to their traditional job roles.

Guntur and Kathryn are now setting goals for themselves and building a future that would have been impossible in their traditional careers. This includes the important decision to stay at home with their children when they decide to start a family.

They have shared many memorable moments over their years with Amway, but the first business trip to Tokyo really stands out. Guntur recalls, “I remember being at Tokyo Disneyland with Kathryn thinking “Wow! We’ll get to go on a trip like this every year!”
